

SUGAR PRICES
GOING DOWN

Dealers Who Over Bought Will Lose Heavily as Result of Trying to Speculate in Necessary Article of Food.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Sugar retail prices have not touched bottom, but are certain to drop to lower levels with the market heavily glutted with stocks far beyond the normal demand, it was announced at the department of justice today.

Ignoring appeals by refiners and sugar wholesale jobbers for the department's intervention to stop further drop in prices, officials said no possible action could be taken to relieve sugar dealers who over bought and now are losing heavily.

Speculators and others caught in this crash must bear the losses resulting from their speculative activity," said Assistant District Attorney Crosby, in charge of profiteering prosecutions.

"Speculators who bought at a high price, expecting still further prices to prevail, are the only ones looking for our help," Crosby said. "We note the consumers are not doing any kicking."

The department of justice today advised consumers against hoarding of sugar or attempts to overstock at the present prices. Those who buy sparingly to meet their usual needs probably will be rewarded later, by the savings expected through lower prices.

Government commercial experts studying the sugar drop, are now convinced that the sugar shortage scare created several months ago was largely artificial, and that prices reached unprecedented levels through the manipulation of the speculative element.

Cuban cane and other varieties of sugar are being quoted as low as twelve cents a pound.

SYNDICATE TO BRING KING BACK

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, Aug. 23.—For the first time in history a great stock company is being formed to re-establish a former king upon his throne, the one time monarch of the present Italian king, Constantine of Greece, who is now an exile in Switzerland.

Revelation of the plans in behalf of Constantine was made today by Greek residents of Paris who allege further that millions of dollars from the vast fortune of the former Mrs. William B. Leeds are being sought to assist the movement. Mrs. Leeds recently married ex-King Constantine's younger brother.

M. Streit, former minister of finance in the Greek cabinet, who accompanied Constantine into exile in Switzerland, is credited with organizing the stock company for the promotion of royalty. M. Streit is said to be soliciting subscriptions from Greeks in all classes of life from the millions in Europe to the Greek bootblacks and waiters in the United States.

M. Streit's idea is said to be the collection of money from Constantine's sympathizers for a great propaganda campaign against M. Venizelos. M. Venizelos is premier of Greece, but in reality he is the ruling power at Athens.

The small subscribers to the "Constantine fund" are promised their money back "when and if" the ex-king is returned to power. The larger subscribers are promised a national concession.

Friends of the former Mrs. Leeds strenuously deny she will contribute a single dollar to the "Constantine fund." They assert that her sole desire is to live quietly in Switzerland with her husband and that she has no aspirations for court life at Athens. Her husband is at present a political refugee, but if Constantine is restored, he could return to Athens as a high royal personage.

PLANS FOR FREE EGYPT.

London, Aug. 23.—Great Britain's plans for freeing Egypt, according to the Daily Herald today, include the following:

1. Abolition of the British protectorate.
2. Great Britain to recognize the independence and full sovereignty of Egypt.
3. Egypt to have full control of her foreign relations.
4. The British army of occupation in Egypt to be completely withdrawn.

These terms, the Daily Herald stated, were included in the settlement which Lord Balfour, representative of the British government, had offered to the Egyptian nationalists.

The first intimation that Great Britain contemplated granting full independence to Egypt was conveyed in an announcement printed in the British press today.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Warsaw, Aug. 23.—The recapture of nine important cities from the Russians were reported by the Polish war office tonight. The Poles are advancing on Bielsk, Russian great headquarters in the field. The official statement says:

General Pilsudski, through the war office, has issued a dramatic appeal, exhorting the nation not to rest until the last Russian has been expelled.

"The spirit of our army is excellent," the war office states.

FIGHT IN CHICAGO RESORT.

One Detective Dead and Another Dying of Injuries.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—One detective is dead with four bullets in his body, another is believed to be dying, and a third man, believed to be a policeman, lies seriously wounded as the aftermath of a riot which early today brought police reserves to the Peking cafe, a south side street resort.

Sergeant William Hennessey, a former soldier, died of gunshot wounds. Sergeant Joseph Mulcahey was shot twice in the right side and is not expected to recover.

Numerous civilians, men and women, were reported to have received minor injuries in the battle, but all of them had been removed when the police, answering a riot call, arrived.

Four men and a number of women are being held for questioning. Two alleged "gun men" are under arrest and one is said to have admitted firing at the detectives.

No accurate details of the shooting have been revealed by the police, but Sergeant Hennessey, shortly before he died, said that he and Sergeant Mulcahey entered the cafe on police business and were fired upon without warning after Mulcahey had been taken for a waiter by a patron of the place.

EIGHT KILLED IN AUTOBUS.

Struck by an Electric Car in Camden Street.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 23.—An investigation was to be opened today to fix the blame of the autobus accident at Fair View last night, in which eight persons, including four children, were killed and five were injured when the bus was struck by an electric car. Three of the injured may die.

The bus, operated by the E. and O. Transportation Company, was filled with persons who had just left the Camden ferry. Safety cables at the crossing had been out of order a week. The crossing watchman said the chauffeur, who had halted to let a train pass on the Reading tracks, 100 yards distant, failed to heed his lantern signal of danger.

The bus was struck squarely by the train. The driver was anxious to question the bus driver, but the latter is unconscious at a hospital.

New York, Aug. 23.—The wife of F. P. Eckert, the young "bootlegger" and automobile thief, who was found shot dead in a stolen automobile on Staten Island, has given the police information, it was learned today, which may solve the mysterious murder.

Mrs. Eckert believes her husband was shot dead by accomplices who feared they might be implicated in evidence Eckert might give the authorities. Eckert had just been released from the Toms when killed.

Eckert was engaged in wholesale evasion of the prohibition law and the men who worked with him were determined they would not be caught in the enforcement net, the wife declared.

Over Prospects for Visit to the Silk Mill by the Chamber of Commerce Friday Evening.

Chairman William C. DeWitt, of the committee that has in charge the arrangements for the visit to the new Kattermann & Mitchell silk mill, of the members and friends of the Chamber of Commerce on Friday evening of this week, is very enthusiastic in regard to this first official visit of inspection to the first of the new industries brought here by the Chamber of Commerce.

Chairman DeWitt calls attention to the fact that Kingstonians have in the past few years been anxiously looking forward to the opportunity to make such a visit.

"The chance is now offered," said Chairman DeWitt, "to go and see for ourselves concrete evidence of the success of our Chamber of Commerce in bringing new industries here."

"A little later we will, of course, make other visits to the other new industries that have followed the location of the Kattermann & Mitchell Company here."

"It is appropriate, however, that we see first this splendid new silk mill. The value of this mill to Kingston is so great that had it been the only new industrial acquisition of the year 1919-1920 would, because of this plant, alone mark a decisive step in our industrial growth."

Chairman DeWitt is being assisted in his plans by the members of his special committee as follows: Leo Herbert, N. H. Fessenden, Samuel Watts, David Burgevin, A. Mauterstock, E. T. Stelle, A. J. Burns, Judge H. E. Schrick, A. L. Harder and Dr. C. B. Cragin.

40,000 RUSSIAN TROOPS
CAPTURED BY THE POLES

Two Whole Divisions Cut Off and Their Capture Momentarily Expected—French Foreign Office Predicts Number of Prisoners Will Be Increased.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Warsaw, Aug. 23.—(Via London, Aug. 23.)—The number of Russian prisoners captured in the great Polish victory was estimated tonight at 4,000. The booty taken by the Poles has reached such enormous proportions it cannot be estimated. Twenty-one Bolshevik divisions were represented among the war prisoners.

The Third and Fifteenth Russian divisions, commanded by Prince Gajdar, have been cut off between the Vistula river and East Prussia and news of their surrender is momentarily expected.

Hard fighting continues on the front east of Warsaw, but the "battle of Warsaw" has ended. The Polish counter offensive, which not only stopped the Russians but rolled them back all along the line, is swinging into its second phase, as the Poles have begun to meet stronger resistance from the Reds.

The Polish advance has slowed down owing to the lack of Polish cavalry to follow up their recent victory.

The Polish government has been unable to communicate with Minsk and thus notify the Polish armistice and peace delegates of the victory over the Russians. The government has been getting its Minsk news by picking up wireless messages from Vienna and Naum.

The more hot headed advisers of the government are clamoring for a decisive military victory before peace is made.

The cry of "on to Vilna" and "on to Kovno" is now heard.

BIBLE SURVEY OF ULSTER CO.

On Open Letter to the People of Ulster County by Secretary Smith of the County Sunday School Association.

As secretary of the Ulster County Bible Society, I am planning to begin my annual tour of the county as soon as the rural schools are opened in September, for the purpose of making the religious survey and for organizing classes for a winter course of Bible study which I am preparing for them, at the expense of the society. Last year, a like course of study was arranged and very favorably approved by those using it. The religious survey throughout the county is still under way and thus far the tabulated figures show a much larger number of families without Bibles than were found thirty-four years ago, when a like survey was made. When finally completed we shall need at least 2,000 copies of the Bible with which to meet the demands upon us.

On account of the increased cost of labor and material the cost of Bibles and printing has also been advanced. The same complete bound copies which four years ago cost us thirty-five cents, now cost fifty cents. Not all these books will be given free, some will be sold; but a large number will be donated. It has been our custom to keep supplied, the Industrial Home in Kingston, the county jail, the county home for the poor, near New Paltz, and the Eastern New York Reformatory at Napanoch, and we would also like to keep supplied our county tuberculosis hospital and the County Home for the Aged, but the two latter we have been unable to reach.

As reported by the survey we find more than 3,000 children without Bibles which they can call their own. Our hope has been and is, that we might be placed in a financial position to see that every child without a Bible be supplied. For this purpose our society exists and has labored for 104 years, but has never been able to meet the demands made upon it, because of a lack of funds. Our religious survey has been costly, but has proven a spiritual uplift to the churches and Sunday schools wherever it has been faithfully followed up. Another heavy expense has been the printing of the one hundred years historical sketch of the society's work. A free copy of this has been placed in the hands of all members of the society and the clergy. Another thing the society needs is printed matter for free distribution throughout the county.

Such matters as books and magazines for the Eastern New York Reformatory; the inmates of that institution very much appreciate such reading matter and do not have enough of it, this must be of an undenominational character. Christian literature, such as Sunday school papers and magazines for free distribution among the boys and girls in the rural districts where there are no Sunday schools or religious services being held. This matter will be classified according to age and sent by parcel post, but may I say, please do not load us up with such material as will be of no value. Sunday schools which have a surplus of papers, illustrated lesson wall rolls, and picture carols, these will be much appreciated, but no lesson papers or quarterlies will be needed.

Any of the above mentioned matter may be sent to No. 53 John street, Kingston, in care of the Hon. Palmer Canfield, Jr., president, where it will be cared for. Any contributions for the work should be sent to A. D. Rose, treasurer, 73 Franklin street, Kingston. We of Ulster county are doing much for the material welfare of our people and through the agency of this society we may do much for their spiritual welfare. There is no other organization in the county aside from the local church which is doing the work we are trying to do, and any aid you may be able to render will be thankfully received, and due acknowledgment made in our annual report. Through the kind generosity of our president, the Hon. Palmer Canfield, Jr., we are enabled again this year to have another exhibit at the Ulster county fair, which is to be held in Ellenville August 23-27. We seek your most hearty interest and cooperation in our work, which is purely a work of charity and benevolence.

Very truly yours,

H. SMITH,
Secretary, 53 John street,
Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 14, 1920.

FREIGHT RATES
A BIG FACTOR

The following, clipped from an exchange, throws a new light on the effect of increased freight rates on prices:

Many self-styled economists have recently been attempting to explain to the public that the increase in freight rates effective on September 1 will mean next to nothing when viewed in the light of individual retail purchases. One-tenth of a cent per pound is the figure usually arrived at and many of the experts maintain that this should be absorbed by the selling organizations of the country, that manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers should bear the increased burden made necessary by the demands of the railroad companies.

But the point that is glossed over or entirely missed is that the million-pound is added, not once, but every time that goods are shipped.

The farmer has to meet it when he orders new implements and again when he ships his crops. The manufacturer has to pay it on every one of his commodities. The wholesaler is faced by it and the retailer has to make due allowance for it.

In fact increased freight rates will be reflected in living costs, not in straight proportion but amplified by about 50 per cent, because the public pays a freight rate increase several times instead of just once.

Consider the case of shoes, for example:

One increased rate is paid when the cattle go from the plains where they are grazed to the slaughter house.

The second increase is paid when the raw hides are shipped from slaughter house to tannery, a third from tannery to shoe manufacturing house, and a fourth when the finished shoe goes from the manufacturer to dealer.

These then show a magnification of rate increase four times. In some commodities, however, the increase is magnified only three times.

There is another factor. The increased freight rate paid by each dealer or manufacturer is added to his cost of operation, on which he figures his profits on a percentage basis.

There seems no getting around the fact that a freight rate increase means a tremendous boost in prices of every commodity produced in the United States. Every person in the United States is bound to feel the increase. It means a tax of about 50 per cent a year for each of the 105,000,000 persons in the United States.

ACCORD.

Accord, Aug. 23.—Charles Anderson broke ground last week for an addition to this mill.

As usual the railroad plans Thursday was well advanced condition during the evening. To date no have not learned what the proceeds were.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Thole and family have returned to their Brooklyn home after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gillespie at Underhill cottage.

Miss Marjorie Van Dine and Frank Feller of Brooklyn were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gillespie the past week.

Joseph Kennedy of Schenectady, N. Y., has been spending a short vacation at Underhill cottage. Mrs. Ella Smith and daughter Mrs. Williams have also been guests at the same place.

Mrs. Claude Gillespie and wife, John Frier of Detroit, Mich., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gillespie.

John Frier and Mrs. Claude Gillespie accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gillespie and Mrs. Grace Deane, returned to Kingston Tuesday and called on Mrs. Sarah Schenck.

Mr. Charles Varney of Corvallis is spending some time with Russell Lawrence and family.

Charles Varley of New Haven, Conn., spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Dubois here.

Mrs. Nathan Turtel of Kingston called on Mrs. Arthur Overbrook Thursday.

A deer and two hares were clearly ed in W. H. Rose's field Saturday morning.

The successors met at the town clerk's office Friday.

J. B. Bowers has returned from a trip to New York city.

Saturday afternoon Henry D. Gillespie suffered a severe paralytic stroke and is in a very serious condition.

Great Men's Giver Fancy.

Daniel Webster had a curious fancy for painting the faces of his cattle. One week the poor beasts would walk around with blue faces, and the next would appear with red ones. The effect was so novel that it pleased him, and from that time forth he changed the color whenever he had a few minutes to spare, and would laugh heartily at the amazement of his friends when they saw the queer-looking teams.

Small Wonder!

"I don't see that you have not been indifferent enough to speak to my daughter about marriage," said the stern parent to the youth who had just asked for his daughter's hand. "I have not, sir," replied the youth, "but I was seriously tempted to do so last evening when she kissed me good night."

John W. Davis, American Ambassador to Great Britain, is now on his way home from London, according to a report from Washington.

Abraham Davis is due at the capital the latter part of next week. His trip home is said to be in the nature of a vacation, but it is generally understood, according to reports from the capital, that he will have a number of important conferences with Secretary of State Colby and probably with President Wilson, making an exhaustive report to both on the entire European situation, particularly with regard to Russia.

Barrel Racing.

Barrel racing is a favorite amusement among the workmen in a suburb of London. Some forty collar men, cooper and others competed in one race of this description. Then followed a double-barreled race, the men engaged being obliged to push before them two empty barrels instead of one.

The Times Now Demand the PRACTICAL SERVICE Which the Franklin Has Always Given

Steady service, without troubles or delays
Unlimited service, free from seasonal restrictions
Thorough service, covering most miles per day
Enjoyable service—comfort over all roads
Economical service, saving gasoline, tires and car.

1920 will increase the total number of Franklin owners to over 65,000—an increase of more than 22% since last year.

The reason behind this increasing popularity is the growing importance of Franklin standards of performance on account of the times. Practical service, as defined above, has always been the aim of the Franklin.

As proof, witness the economy which Franklin owners have enjoyed for eighteen years, and which now averages:—

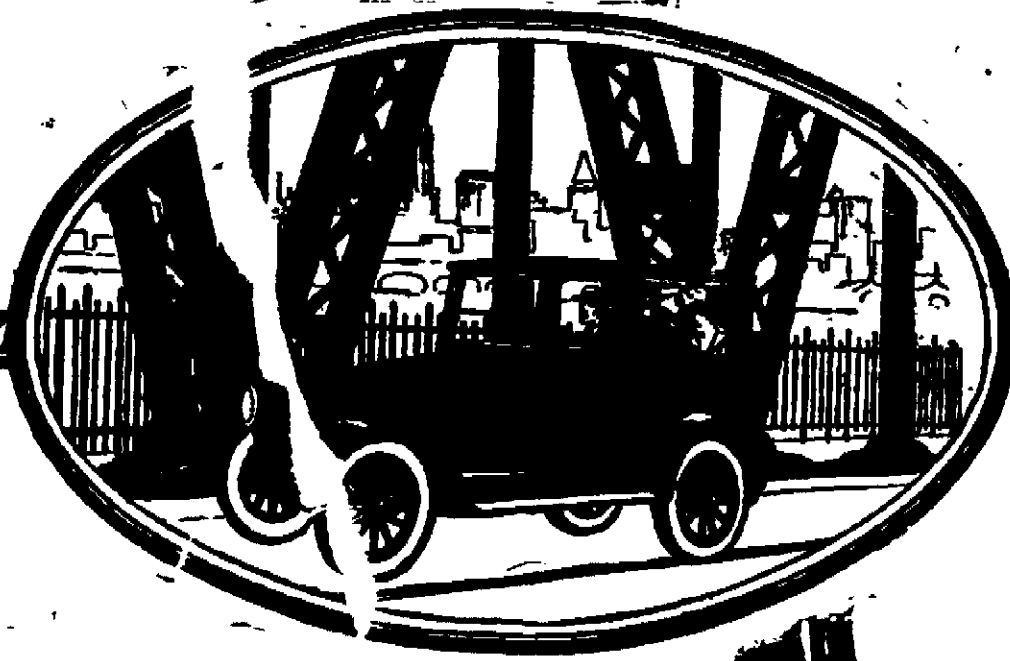

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline
12,500 miles to the set of tires

HOME BUREAU EXHIBIT AT FAIR

The Home Bureau exhibit at the county fair is attracting considerable attention. Every woman in Ulster county should plan to see it. It is in the main building and beside the fancy work booth.

Those who have already visited this exhibit have marveled particularly at the great variety of dishes that can be made from milk and commented especially on the whey mince salad, corn starch ribbon pudding, whey pie, fruit sponge, whey salad dressing, the many "different" salads and the combination of milk and cottage cheese with vegetables. Those who saw this exhibit were surprised and interested in the exhibit, comparing the food value of milk with other kinds of food. The picture machine, which forms a part of this exhibit, is also a big attraction. The pictures are on the subject of milk and many of these have local interest.

Wednesday afternoon there will be a demonstration of the use of the use of a fruit and how to make the milk dishes shown in the exhibit as well as many others. This demonstration will be given by Miss Lucile Brewer, professor of cookery at Cornell University. All who have attended one of Miss Brewer's demonstrations will be sure not to miss this opportunity of attending another one. Those who have never attended any of them cannot be urged too strongly to go to this one at the county fair. Miss Brewer gave the demonstration on the Cornell demonstration train that was in Ulster county last summer and the summer before.

On Thursday afternoon Miss Brewer will give another milk and cottage cheese demonstration and will also demonstrate the use of the steam pressure cooker for canning and cooking.

The Home Bureau cordially invites and urges all to attend at least one of these demonstrations as one is sure to find them very worth while. Banners and leaflets on all of the subjects demonstrated and exhibited will be distributed.

Sand Generates Electricity.

A curious phenomenon of the Sahara is the charging of motorcar bodies with electricity. Lorries running in the vicinity of Gabs are reported to be often affected, and drivers grasping the starting handle after a stop are liable to receive severe shocks. The electrification is supposed to be imparted to the chassis from charged sand blown against it, the rubber tires serving as insulation to retain the charge. By trailing wires, ground connection is made, and the charge dissipated.

Boy Stowaway Finds Fabled City

No Gold Pavements, He Discovers, in New York City, But Good Friends for Hungry Boys in Police Department and Salvation Army.

A BOY'S dream of adventure under the orange trees of Porto Rico made a stowaway of Emilio Bilbas. Two days he cowered in the dark hold of a northward-bound freighter. Then he was hailed before the captain. But he was glad. For he was on his way to the fabled city—New York.

But Emilio found no golden pavements in the fabled city. Instead, the day after his arrival he wandered hungry through the East Side. And there a policeman found him. The policeman knew what to do with him. Within the hour, Emilio, stripped of his tropical rags, was bathed, comfortably clad, and devouring a square meal in a Salvation Army post.

Emilio has a job now, and the Salvation Army is helping him become a credit to the community. As the Army helped Emilio, it helps hundreds of others week after week. And that it may go on helping, it will ask the people of the country, between May 10 and 20, for a $10,000,000 Home Service Fund to maintain its work.

SOME DAY ARTIST MAY BECOME RICH

So Court Orders Alimony and Counsel Fee Paid to Wife Who Had Asked Nothing.

Two residents of the artists' colony at Woodstock furnished a diverse action Saturday when the action brought by Olga May Thomas against Arthur Paul Thomas was tried before Judge Hasbrouck in supreme court chambers.

Mrs. Thomas before her marriage was Olga May Piotrowska, and is of Polish descent. Thomas is a son of Cyrus W. Thomas. Both were artists before their marriage, which took place at Grace Church, New York city, on June 5, 1915, and was performed by the Rev. Charles Lewis Slattery.

Two "investigators" employed by private detective agencies of New York city furnished the evidence.
They call themselves "investigators"
instead of "detectives," explained
one of them, because they have not been licensed to employ others as detectives, but are themselves employed. The act complained of occurred in the house at 107 West 38th street,
New York city, on June 29 of this year, and the detectives were accompanied by Samuel J. Wagstaff, a member of the firm of Rollins & Rol-line of New York. One of the "investigators" lives in Rutherford, N. J., and the other in Brooklyn. They,
with Wagstaff, forced the door of the apartments on the third floor of the house, which bore the name
"Thomas," and which they had seen Thomas and a woman with whom he had been dining enter a short time before their entry. The woman, they said, did not resemble Mrs. Thomas, but was not "beautiful."

When the "investigators" and Wagstaff entered the rooms, said the two witnesses, Thomas picked up a chair and came toward them. One witness said he tried twice to strike
at him with the chair, and succeeded in hitting his hat. Both witnesses agreed that Wagstaff, who is a tall and rather powerfully built man,
reached over and seized the chair.
The other witness said Thomas forced them back with the chair, but there was sufficient time for them to use a flash light.

Judge Hasbrouck said he would not require the testimony of Wagstaff, but recalled Mrs. Thomas to the stand and inquired in regard to her husband's finances. She said he had been employed as an accountant in Pittsburgh at one time before their marriage, but since their marriage
he had contributed nothing to her support, but on the contrary she had supported him most of the time. He is an artist, which is also her vocation, and she had not applied either for alimony or counsel fee, she said, because her attorneys had advised her that it could not be collected.

Judge Hasbrouck said nobody could tell what the fortunes of an artist might be, and suggested that some day he might become very rich.
In that case, said Mrs. Thomas, she would like to get back the money she had spent on him, and she brightened perceptibly at the prospect. She explained that she had believed she would be compelled to put Thomas in the Ludlow street jail in case alimony and counsel fee were granted and could not be collected, and she really did not want to put anybody in jail. Judge Hasbrouck suggested that as time went on, there was a possibility that she might become hardened, and she assented to the extent of saying "Perhaps."

Judge Hasbrouck therefore, in granting an interlocutory decree, directed that Thomas pay his wife $10 weekly from the commencement of the action, together with taxable costs and $200 counsel fee.

There's a Reason

Has the Small Car Owner A Right to Good Tires

THIS much is certain—that the small car owners of this country have as high quality standards as any other class of motorists. Whenever you want to see this proven out, you have only to watch how they come to good tires, when they are given an opportunity to get at them.

What some dealers seem to overlook are the reasons which have led most of the small car owners to buy their cars.

In building tires for the small car,
the United States Rubber Company exercises as much care, as much thought, as much supervision, as if they were intended to go on the most expensive cars
in the country.

Devoting an entire factory to their manufacture. Putting the whole weight of its varied experience behind them.

Never cheapening their quality on the mistaken theory that a man's intelligence can be judged by the length of his car's wheel base.

Good dealers will tell you that they can never get enough U. S. 10x3 1/2-inch Tires.

A hint which the small car owner
who is bent on quality will always heed
in time.

CIDER MUST NOT STAY ON PREMISES

Permit For Its Manufacture Not

In answer to inquiries regarding the manufacture of cider under the Eighteenth Amendment and the manufacturer, has been notified by Charles R. O'Connor, the Federal Prohibition enforcement officer for

"Permit is not required for the manufacture of cider containing less than one-half of one per cent, and you will be allowed to make cider at a cider mill provided the cider is removed from your premises before it contains one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume."

Mr. Van Kerren accordingly, will begin making cider next Wednesday.

Arctic Gold Misunderstood.

There is a great deal of misunderstanding relative to the gold of the Arctic regions. The absence of presents of water and altitude are important factors in determining temperature. As the altitude increases going North, the bite of the weather is lessened so that there is little or no inconvenience to be experienced from the cold.

The New Toll Rates Will Become Effective September 21, 1920

Informal announcement has previously been made of the necessity for an increase in telephone toll rates in New York State to provide part of the additional revenue needed to meet the Company's urgent requirements.

Schedules covering the new rates for toll service have been filed with the Public Service Commission, Second District, and will become effective September 21, 1920.

In general, the new schedules provide for an increase of 5c. per call for all toll calls between points in New York State, outside the City of New York, up to and including a distance of 40 miles. Beyond 40 miles the toll rates remain substantially as at present.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE BICYCLE'S JOY.

"Well," said the bicycle to another bicycle outside of a house, "I was pretty nervous this spring."

"What was the trouble?" asked the second bicycle. The second bicycle showed that it had been in use for quite a number of years. It was rather worn while the first bicycle looked very new and fresh and its paint hadn't been rubbed or scratched off at all.

"What was the trouble?" the second bicycle asked again.

"You see," said the first bicycle, "I thought I wouldn't be sold. It was some time before I was. Very few bicycles were sold for a time and I even heard a rumor that folks were selling their old bicycles and that children were trying to get rid of theirs."

"Oh, none of the children around here," said the second bicycle, "have been getting rid of theirs. In fact when they have gone off to camps or haven't wanted their bicycles there have always been younger members of the family that have wanted them."

"Well," said the first bicycle, "as I tell you I was fearfully worried. You know how rumors will get around and this one was such a sad one."

"I thought to myself, 'Oh dear me, has it come to this pass that children no longer want bicycles but merely want airships and automobiles and such things?'"

"Don't they want the good old loyal friend the bicycle?"

"And then I heard so many children were asking for kites and were tying them high in the air, attaching more and more string to them so that they went up so far no one could see the string for ever so far but could simply see high up in the air a beautiful kite of lovely colors."

"Of course I wasn't jealous of kites, for I should think they were great fun. They're very pretty and they look lovely in the sky and the wind helps pull them up and up and when ever so many people are flying kites it is a wonderful thing to see."

"And I don't object to play airships or play automobiles or anything else like that. But I did feel badly to think that maybe the poor old bicycle's day was done."

"I remember a story of my grandfather. He was given as a surprise to a little girl by her brother. She didn't know what she was going to have, only her brother told her she was going to have a great and enormous surprise. I think my grandfather has often told the story."

"The brother made up puzzles to help the sister guess what her surprise was going to be but she simply could-not guess anything so wonderful as a bicycle.

"Oh, Brother!"

"The brother had saved up for ages and ages to give it to her—all paid for out of money he had earned himself."

"Well, when my grandfather was given to her, he said that the little girl just said, 'Oh, brother, and put her arms around her brother's neck and the tears came to her eyes for very joy of the great great surprise.'"

"I was afraid such days had gone. But at last I was sold and I find there are lots of bicycles around and that children still do enjoy them."

"Oh yes, indeed they do," said the second bicycle.

"Two of the children are going to be taught to ride on you and what fun you will have helping them to learn."

"You will make them get very smart before you will ride straight along without making them fall over or try to fall over when they are helped and so moved from actually falling."

"Oh," said the first bicycle, "I am so joyous. My tires are full of joy and air. My bell rings merrily. Oh, I'm a happy, happy bicycle."

"Now I don't care if children do love airships and automobiles and all sorts of modern toys and if they like kites because they fly so high in the air and are so lovely, for they still have room in their hearts for the loyal old bicycle friend."

"It's a great joy to be a bicycle after all."

It Was Tuesday.

Little Harry recently spent a week with his aunt.

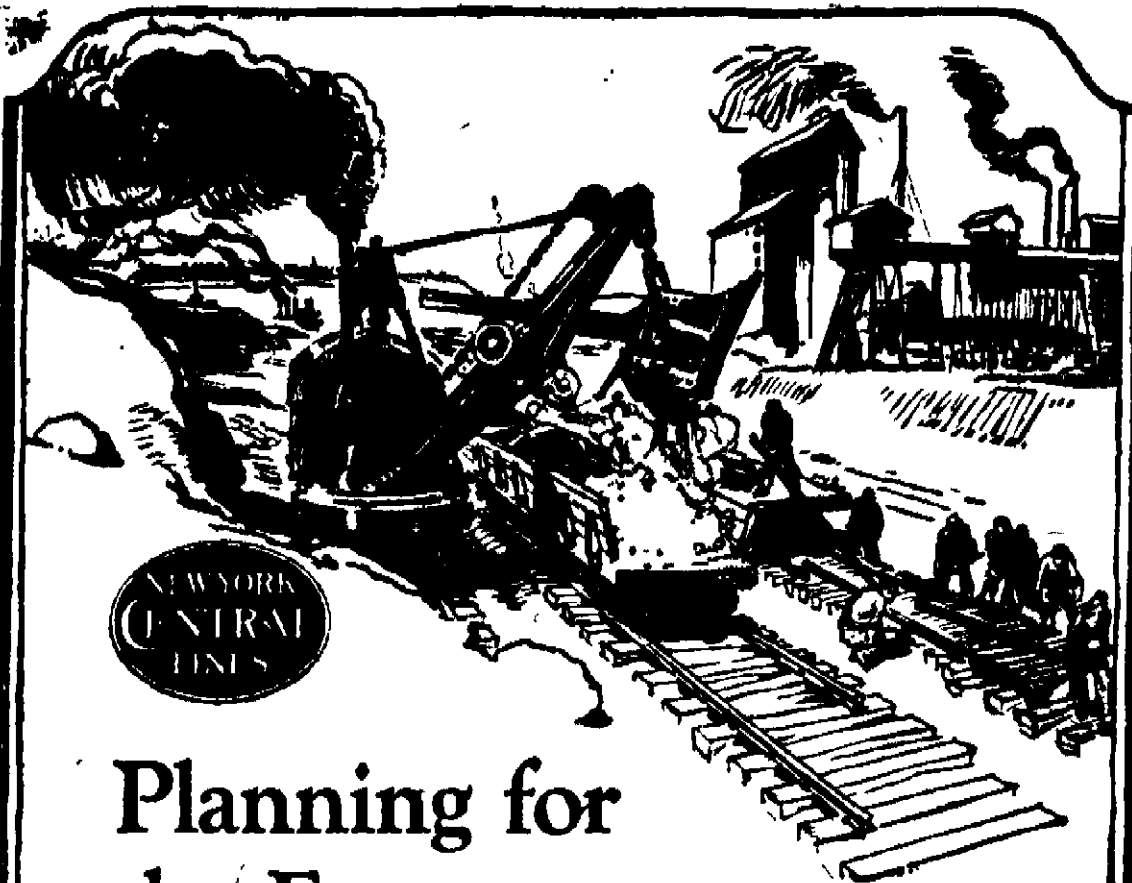

After returning to his home he said to his sister Margaret:

"Margaret, I had some of the best ice cream at aunt's. It was all covered with fruit and nuts and was the best stuff I ever tasted." Margaret said: "Why, Harry, that was a wonder."

Harry promptly replied: "I was thinking of the kind. It was a Tuesday."

Difficult Climbing.

Another reason why we have been climbing very fast up the ladder of fame is because we have to come down every little while and sell some ground-hog we'll say this Tuesday.—Dustin Boone.

Planning for the Future

THERE is but one way in which the railroads could have been made ready for the peak load of commerce this summer and fall. That was by placing large orders for equipment and making heavy investments for other facilities one, two and even three years ago.

The increases in freight and passenger rates, authorized recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission, will be helpful in making possible the improvements that will restore the railroads to maximum efficiency in the future.

The increased revenue alone cannot provide for the additions and betterments that will be necessary if the roads are to catch up with the progress made by national commerce. This revenue should, however, assist in restoring the credit of the roads and thus open the way to financing their needs for the future.

Although heavy investments have been made by the New York Central Lines in the past few months, the results cannot possibly become immediately effective.

The situation of the railroads today is analogous to that in the shipyards at the beginning of the war. Before the number of ships could be increased, new shipyards necessarily had to be built. More than a year passed before the elaborate planning and enormous expenditures yielded results in the form of launchings.

SIMILARLY, it requires months to build any considerable number of cars in any factory. It takes a long time to catch up fully with current needs when the normal requirements of previous years have been disregarded.

The chief difference between railroading and merchandising enterprises is that little done today can be made quickly effective. The relatively good condition of the New York Central Lines is due to the careful planning and heavy investments of the years before the war.

The increased rates recently authorized should result in the establishment of a credit basis that will encourage investments in railroad securities and thus make possible the continued improvement of these properties.

NEW CHANNEL-SWEEPER IDEA

Channel This is the idea of Van H. in the illustration of George Chamberlain.

To aid in the maintenance of the New York state barge canal, a channel sweeper has been devised, not heretofore dreamed by the construction of the canal. Under Gordon F. Chamberlain in Popular Mechanics, Kingston, N. Y., an idea given on and the barge canal by recent excavations to remove their normal shape, the need of dredging will become less. Invention, however, shows that within one year sufficient material may be deposited within the canal to make the available depth of water considerably less than the prescribed 12 feet. An example of this was found in the channel cut of Otisville lake. This was completed in a full 12-foot depth in 1910, yet, in 1917, it was so washed in with sand that it was necessary to remove thousands of cubic yards of this material.

To aid in the locating of obstructions in the canal the state engineer has devised a novel channel sweeper, and boat builders have been asked to submit estimates as to the cost of three or four of them that may be placed on the canal.

The new sweeper consists of two boats, each 18 feet long and 6 feet wide. These are placed 15 feet apart and joined by timbers. An opening four 20 feet long and 5 feet wide will be constructed near the stern, and suspended from this will be a 60-pound rail, 30 feet long, held by two chains at each end.

Armor for the Gullies.
"Gullies who fear snakes," says a traveler, "might try the 'tin armor' tactics resorted to by wanderers in the tropical swamp lands. It is the custom of some explorers to tuck a bright tin disk over their ankles. This gleaming spot attracts the reptiles, which invariably strike at it and nowhere else. The stroke is then rendered harmless and leaves the make in a position to receive a backshot blow at the intended victim's discretion."—London Chronicle.

AMERICA FIRST IN OLYMPIC GAMES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Antwerp, Aug. 23.—Two events remain to be finished in the track and field games of the seventh Olympiad, but to all intents and purposes everything has been finished. So far as the United States is concerned, this is almost certainly so, for there is little chance of the U. S. athletes winning any of the remaining contests, although points undoubtedly will be added to the total.

Today the cross country run and the 1,600 metre relay race will be cleared off the program and the games will stand finished. Boxing and wrestling will go on into events of less importance. Swimming contests also will be started this week.
America enters the last lap for ahead of its nearest competitor, having scored 203 points in the 26
events now finished. Sweden apparently has clinched second place, for she now has 93 points against 87 for Finland and probably will be able to hold her own today. England landed fourth place with 77 points. France and Italy were tied for fifth with 27
each. South Africa was in sixth place with 24. Canada 20; Denmark 9; Estonia 8; New Zealand 5.
Norway, Belgium, Czechoslovakia
3 each and Luxembourg 1.
More records were smashed in the events held yesterday. Kolehmainne, the Finnish athlete, cut down the time for the marathon
by finishing the course in 2 hours, 32 minutes, 34.5 seconds, despite a driving rain that fell throughout the journey. He ran for Finland because of the ruling that preventing a man switching from one country to another. Kolehmainne is an American citizen of Finnish extraction.

Ball Ended The Game.

The K. of C. baseball team went to Coxsack Sunday to play the Coxsack team and rain stopped
the game at the end of five innings when the score was 2 in favor of the Coxsack and 1 in favor for the Kingston Kaseys.

CATSKILL WINS FROM KINGSTON

Locals' Winning Streak Broken Saturday on Athletic Field—Score 4
to 1 in Favor of Catskill Nine.

Kingston's winning streak was broken Saturday at the Athletic Field
when "Pop" Galt's team composed of four players from Catskill and five men who hail from the "Old Colonial" defeated the local team by the score of 4 to 1. The game was one of the best played in the city this season and although the local team went down to defeat there was no complaint from the fans for the game was well played from start to finish.

Until the seventh inning the game
held to a pitchers' duel between Freddie Stoudt and Dick Williams,
but in the seventh Freddie weakened and the Catskill team scored two runs, enough to sew up the game. The only run scored by the locals was in the third inning when Bruck connected with the ball and stretched a double into a home run when the ball was lost in the weeds back of first.
Kingston had a couple of chances to score but the final punch was lacking.

In the second Hub Coffey had a chance to help out the locals when he hit out a three bagger to right field.
There was no coach on third to hold him and in trying to stretch it into a home he was caught at the plate.

The Catskill players bunched their hits and taking advantage of Stoudt's wildness and a couple of poor fielding trys, they sewed up the game.
Catskill scored first in the third inning when Smedes, who was issued a free pass and then pulled a couple of near steals, galloped home on a hit over third by Glazer. In Kingston's half of the same inning they tied the score up. The next score came in the seventh when F. Galt, Jr., the first man up, was brought in by a neat hit by Williams. Cy Connors straightened out another curve and brought in Williams for the second run of the "lucky" seventh. The fourth run of the game came for the visitors in the next inning when Artie Rice started off with a single to center. Whitse was safe when the ball bounced off Hornbeck's shin and Rice went to second. F. Galt hit to Moore and Whitse was thrown out at second.
Rice going to third. Rice scored when Phillips hit to Hornbeck.
Kingston was unable to connect with the ball in their half of the inning after Moore the first man up hit out a double. The other three men were retired and a rally which might have been won.

The game Saturday was attended by one of the largest crowds of the season and there was not a single disappointed fan on the grounds,
both teams putting up a real exhibition of ball.

Jefferson's Aim.

Jefferson sought to create in the university of the state an institution that would not only through tradition of culture values give to the state "top talents and judges" and be respected "structure of government," but would also "incubate and promote the interests of agriculture, manufacture and commerce, and by well-formed views of public economy give free course to political economy."—Edward Kilduff Graham.
